BIO

Stephanie Tzafaroglou is a Partner with Vandeveer Garzia. She focuses her practice on personal injury, catastrophic first-party automobile claims, third-party automobile claims, and general negligence matters. While in law school, Stephanie completed an externship with the Michigan Court of Appeals. Prior to joining Vandeveer Garzia P.C., she represented individuals in criminal defense, family law, and personal injury matters. Stephanie also worked as a litigation attorney for an insurance defense firm where she represented insurance companies and their insureds in first and third-party automobile negligence claims, property, and negligence claims.
